

NO-RISK GUARANTEE

Morris Press Cookbooks guarantees to every fundraising organization using our cookbook program that cookbook sales will be sufficient to pay the printing bill. We've published millions of cookbooks since 1933, and we know your cookbooks will sell. That's why fundraising organizations are not required to pay up-front. Our guarantee only requires that the more cookbooks you order, the more recipe contributors you have.

Guarantee is subject to these conditions:

1. Your organization does not sell the books for less than our suggested prices. See our price sheet.
2. Recipe contributors must be adults (potential buyers) and their names must be printed with their recipes.
3. An order of:

	With recipes from at least:
100–200 books .....	50 different individuals
201–500 books .....	150 different individuals
501–1,000 books .....	200 different individuals
1,001–1,500 books .....	250 different individuals
1,501–2,000 books .....	300 different individuals
2,001–4,000 books .....	400 different individuals
4,001–5,000 books .....	500 different individuals

If these conditions are met and there is an unpaid balance, furnish proof to Morris Press Cookbooks that not enough books could be sold to pay for the order. The organization may return unsold books to Morris Press Cookbooks. In this event, all money collected from book sales must be remitted to Morris Press Cookbooks. Authorization is required before returning any books.

Guarantee does not apply to reprints since they are self-financed with proceeds from the original order.

note:

It is not mandatory to conform to our guarantee conditions. Many organizations publish cookbooks with any number of recipe contributors and sell their books successfully. We know from experience that cookbooks sell very well. That's why we finance entire cookbook programs.
